

From Homework to Clockwork

How Sir Federic Osborn track homework in 5% of the time

Sir Federic Osborn is a comprehensive school situated in the suburbs of Hertfordshire. The intake of the school is varied and as a result makes for interesting days. We are a school that prides itself on our inclusive ethos and the hard work and willingness to drive success by our staff and students.

How has Show My Homework (SMHW) saved time from an SLT and Teaching perspective?

Teachers comment that using SMHW has helped to organise their setting and collection of homework, whereas SLT have found the system to be invaluable in the tracking and quality assurance of homework in the school. This has saved large amounts of time for all involved.

“ SLT have found the system to be invaluable in the tracking and quality assurance of homework ”

What other value have you gained from SMHW?

SMHW has helped to revolutionise the way in which homework is set and collected in school. It has helped to raise the profile of homework across the board and has allowed all involved to feel part of the homework process. Parents comment that the ability to check what their children have to do each night has helped to reduce problems at home and in school, leading to improved behaviour and attendance alongside increased results.

The support available from the SMHW team is always first rate and resolves any issues we have had quickly and successfully. The training sessions have helped to train and re-train staff along the way to ensure the delivery of homework is first class as always. Students are now engaged with their homework and are concerned if they cannot access it, which only helps to further the level of engagement.

“ We’ve saved 95% of time tracking homework on a termly basis ”

How much time has SMHW saved SLT in tracking and monitoring homework?

It’s reduced from one full week every half term, to a 30 minute report every 2 weeks.

This allows us to invest our time more wisely into matters that can help benefit the school and aid students’ development.

Ian Graham
Assistant Headteacher

PiXL
Partners in excellence